

Explorers Emigrants Citizens

By Linda Barrett Osborne &
Paolo Battaglia

This “visual history of the Italian American experience” taps for the first time the Library of Congress’s vast photo collection of Italian American history. It has over 500 images and photographs, many never before published, including the first map ever to use the name “America” as well as stark photographs of what our early ancestors faced and triumphant shots of their successful children and grandchildren. A “must” for every family’s library and a worthy donation to schools and public libraries. [$55; hardcover; 320 pages; Anniversary Books]
